

CONNECTS WITH COUNTRY

"The earth is what we all have in common." - Wendell Berry

This workshop will equip you with the skills and mindset to make sustainable decisions that have a positive impact on the environment and society. Your facilitator will guide you in understanding how even small changes in policy or practice can have significant benefits for not only your workplace but also the local environment. Learn how to balance the needs of your organisation with the well-being of the planet and its inhabitants. Discover how to become the leader who truly connects with country!

Key Course Content:

- Understanding the interconnected relationship between the environment and society
- Recognising that small changes can have a significant impact on the environment and community
- Incorporating cultural and indigenous perspectives in decision-making processes
- Implementing policies and practices that prioritise the well-being of the environment and community
- Understanding the long-term effects of decisions on the environment and society
- Building relationships with local communities and organisations to work towards sustainable solutions
- Encouraging and promoting eco-friendly and socially responsible practices within the organisation
- Evaluating the success of decisions and initiatives based on their environmental and societal impact
- Getting past the same counter arguments

Target Audience:

The course can be tailored for the specific cohort whether it be the leadership team, another group of managers/team leaders or employees.

Duration:

This course is available as a 1-day course or a truncated ½ -day course.

Delivery:

This course can be delivered both in-person or virtually. For virtual delivery, we can use our virtual platforms or your organisations.

Group Size:

We recommend a group size of 4-10 people.